THINK M'NUTT GEARED TO RUN FOR PRESIDENT

Friends Believe Chances Enhanced By Appointment To FSA

WASHINGTON, July 12.—(AP)—President Roosevelt's insistence that administrative ability instead of politics dictated selection of Paul V. McNutt as federal security administrator failed to stop talk in political circles today that the appointment had increased the chances for the Democratic presidential nomination.

Senator Minton, Democrat, Indiana, New Deal supporter, declared after the president had discussed the "background" of the appointment at a press conference:

"I think McNutt will do a job that will be so satisfactory the Democrats won't want anyone else."

A highly-placed Democratic senator of the "old-line" school, who asked not to be quoted by name, said he thought McNutt would be "satisfactory to the anti-Roosevelt Democrats."

McNutt has said he would withdraw if Mr. Roosevelt again, but added that he saw no reason for calling off friends working for his nomination.

His appointment to the $12,000 security job—he is now getting $18,000 as high commissioner to the Philippines—was on the senate calendar today, with administration leaders predicting quick confirmation.

Acting with unusual speed, Chairman Harrison, Democrat, Mississippi, of the senate finance committee polled the committeemen yesterday a few hours after the nomination had been announced.

PAIR DANGLES HIGH IN AIR FOR 5 HOURS

Couple Taken At Dawn From Lofly Perch At New York Fair

GUIDE WIRE CATCHES
Thousands Stay Through-out Night To Watch Rescue Efforts

NEW YORK, July 12.—(AP)—A pleasure-seeking couple who dangled for five hours on a board seat 125 feet above ground at the World's fair parachute jump were rescued at dawn today after two daring mechanics cut the jammed guide wire which held them captive.

The aerial prisoners were Mr. and Mrs. J. Cornelius Rathborne, socially prominent couple of Old Westbury, Long Island.

Rathborne is captain of the United States junior championship polo team. His wife, the former Nancy Nelson Hildekooper of Ruxton, Md., was a Baltimore society belle before their marriage at Long Branch, Va., November 23, 1935.

Their parachute, one of 11 in operation from the 250-foot tower, stuck at 10:25 p.m., eastern standard time, last night.

They finally were rescued at 3:30 a.m., eastern standard time, after mechanics attached a rope to the parachute, cut the jammed cable, and lowered the chute a few feet at a time, on the three remaining cables into a spread pole net.

A crowd numbering in the thousands stayed up until dawn to watch the rescue, then loosed a reverberating cheer as the man and woman were carried to an ambulance. They were taken to an emergency hospital on the fairgrounds but refused medical aid and drove away in their own car.

The woman, who in the early hours of her plight shouted jests to the throng, wanted to walk away, but police picked her up. Rathborne, who said he was a polo player, buckled at the knees as his long ordeal ended. He is 32, Mrs. Rathborne 25.

Prolonged cheers also were the reward of two daring mechanics, Harry Mitchell and William Gerst, who performed the impossible human-fly stunt in attempting to free the corner of the parachute. Gerst, a Chicagoan, rode the chute to earth when it finally was freed.

Gerst is a former mailcarrier, and Mitchell a one-time steeplejack. Gerst, who risked his life atop the disabled parachute, to keep it at an even keel in its slow, dangerous descent, praised the courage of the two passengers.

"Both were perfectly okay at all times," Gerst grinned. "As for me, I didn't have time to get nervous."

Mitchell, whose nerve nuchance atop the parachute tower kept spectators from leaving, was kept in the tower for five hours.

The clipper took off from Southampton at 3:15 p.m. (9:15 a.m., eastern standard time). She was due to reach New York at about 3:15 p.m., eastern standard time, tomorrow.

Returning today were John Cowles of the Minneapolis (Minn.) Star, Amos G. Carter of the Fort Worth (Tex.) Star-Telegram, Roy W. Howard, president of the Scripps-Howard newspapers, Silliman Evans of the Nashville Tennessean, M. C. Meigs of the Chicago American, Edward Swasey of the American Weekly, and John D. Ewing of the Shreveport (La.) Times.

James G. Stahlman, president and publisher of the Nashville Banner, stayed over to deliver an address tonight to the convention of the National Association of Broadcasters at Atlantic City, N. J. His talk will be part of a program starting at 9:30 p.m., eastern standard time. Stahlman plans to return to the United States Sunday over the Pan-American Airways southern clipper route via Maricao, Lisbon and the Azores.

Most of the publishers had tea with Prime Minister Chamberlain in the house of commons yesterday and dinner with Lord Beaverbrook, British publisher.

THINK M'NUTT GEARED TO RUN FOR PRESIDENT

Meanwhile, politicians debated whether the president in naming McNutt to a position with supervision over thousands of federal employees in every state and millions of dollars in expenditures and grants, had given him a free hand in carrying out the presidential campaign in the state.

BRITONS THINK U. S. IS WILD

BRITONS THINK U. S. IS WILD. The British public, according to a recent survey, has a very different view of the United States than the American public. They view the U.S. as a land of wild, unbridled individualism, where the law is often broken and the rights of the minority are often ignored. This view is based on the news they receive from the U.S. press, which often portrays the American scene in a highly sensational and exaggerated manner.

BROOKLYN DODGERS GET JUMP ON OTHER TEAMS

PLAY PIRATES TONIGHT; REST OF CLUBS IDLE

Even If They Lose They'll Benefit At Turn-stiles

The Brooklyn Dodgers, who have been trying all manner of means of getting the jump on the rest of the major league teams, have a sure thing tonight.

While other clubs in the National and American leagues are completing a one-day holiday occasioned by the all-star game at New York, the Dodgers are at Pittsburgh, where they will play what may be their last game of the season. In that game will be the ending of the right of the New York Giants to send the Dodgers to get a day start on their last game even if they lose their last game at the turnstiles.

When the Dodgers resume action tomorrow, the season will be in the last of the season, and the National League will be in the last of the season. Attention will be focused on three series.

Boston's campaigning Red Sox have been the Yankees' first struggle and given the champions their first real threat of the season, but after a one-day holiday, the game will be a long one, and the Yankees will be in a position to take the game.

The Yankees, who have been in a position to take the game, will be in a position to take the game.

OLD MAID DRESSES, HULA SKIRTS TO FEATURE GAME

URANIA, La. July 12.—(Special.) The Urania and Tallois softball league will offer softball fans of this section something new Saturday night when the Arkansas Old Maids, members of the local league, play the Urania Wiggles, composed of Urania Lumber company players, clash in the local park, in a game that will be featured by the wearing of special "uniforms." The game will begin at 8 o'clock.

The game will be played according to regular softball rules with the exception of the rule concerning uniforms.

The Arkansas "Old Maids" will appear on the field in dresses—the kind old maids wear, regardless of the fit. The Wiggles will wear hula skirts reputedly "imported from the island of Hawaii."

Promoters had the attraction as a softball game, but it will probably turn out to be a style show and many of the players are already commenting on the "cute frocks" they intend to wear. Such star performers as "Snake Hips" Johnson, "Jitter-Bug" Blevins, "Streamlined" Tannehill and "Rumba" Walsh are slated to take part in the game.

The first-half schedule of the Little Six league ended Sunday with Mer Rouge winning a double header from Jones, 9 to 4, and 11 to 1, and Bout River winning a double header from Crowville, 9 to 5, and 8 to 1.
